SENIOR CLIENT PARTNER
ARLINGTON'S BOARD & EXECUTIVE TALENT MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

"I believe that everyone is born with a great voice and a powerful story to tell, and everyone can learn to tell their story with confidence and power. I want to discover those stories and help people express them with clarity, confidence and authenticity. When you master your voice, you master your impact, and I love to help people do just that."

Bonnie Gross is a Speech Language Pathologist, Executive Communication Coach and Senior Client Partner in Arlington's Board and Executive Advisory Practice at Arlington Partners International. Bonnie leads the in-depth board and executive communication preparation module of Arlington's Board and Executive Talent Management Program. Through this module, Bonnie works with Arlington clients to develop and refine their communication, presentation, public speaking, and interpersonal skills for the purposes of networking and interviewing preparation for executive, board and advisory opportunities in one's next chapter. Bonnie guides them to clearly articulate their relevant business and board experiences, key skillsets, competencies and successes to effectively convey confidence, authenticity and executive and board presence. She supports clients to think strategically and to inspire, motivate and transmit their vision in the most compelling way.

For over 25 years, Bonnie has blended the science of Speech-Language Pathology with broadcast media expertise to transform how top-tier leaders communicate, influence and inspire action. Her approach goes beyond generic communication advice, providing a customized, science-backed methodology to help you find your most confident and influential leadership voice. Bonnie has coached C-suite executives at Fortune 500 companies, senior diplomats at the United Nations (New York), and leadership teams at Canada's top financial institutions—including IBM Canada, CIBC, BMO, TD Bank, and RBC.

Bonnie has a BA in Psychology and a postgraduate DSPA in Speech Language Pathology from the University of Toronto. Her career in Radio and Television broadcast includes the award-winning interview show Ethnicity, as well as other programs.
